

Summertime is Passed and Gone

Summertime is past and gone and I'm on my way back home

To see the only one I ever loved

There's a moon that's shining bright, to light my path home tonight

Back to the only one I ever loved

If you swear that you'll be true, I swear I'll wait for you

You're the only one that I adore

And the moon is shining bright, to light my pathway tonight

Back to the only one I ever loved.